

WILSON MILLER

Los Angeles, CA / 310.441.9999 / 310.441.9999

A versatile and professional college teacher with 20 years of experience in teaching Physics to engineering and physics students from three backgrounds: degree in Engineering, physics and science teaching strategies that produce great engineering and science students. Experienced teaching for college Physics. Also an active participant in activities to help engineering students progress.

TEACHING EXPERIENCE

College Professor

California State University, Sacramento, CA

January 2010 - Present

- Develops courses and syllabi for college students, including a 5th semester physics course in the
- Multi-component to mechanics and such topics as quantum, relativity, and thermodynamics and quantum
- Important to teaching students is to make sure that students understand the concepts of physics in the world of science and life.
- Developed a course in the university's Physics Program and Physics Program (graduate level) for the

College Professor

California State University, Sacramento, CA

August 2000 - December 2000

- Taught a course in mechanics and such topics as quantum, relativity, and thermodynamics and quantum
- Developed a new syllabus for the course in the university's Physics Program and Physics Program (graduate level) for the
- Important to teaching students is to make sure that students understand the concepts of physics in the world of science and life.
- Developed a course in the university's Physics Program and Physics Program (graduate level) for the

TEACHING

University of California, Los Angeles, CA

1990 - 1995

1995 - 1999

University of California, Santa Cruz, CA

1995 - 1999

1999 - 2000

TEACHING

University of California, Santa Cruz, CA
1995 - 1999